

reclaim a Christ-centered life in a selfie-centered world

How can we stay engaged with technology in our social-media saturated world while still putting Christ first?

Join us for this study with popular author and pastor Craig Groeschel as he shows us what it means to be “like Jesus” and find authenticity and compassion in an age when we relate to each other so differently. We can see what it means to no longer be defined by who follows us but by the One we follow.
