

HE CHOSE
THE NAILS

HE CHOSE
THE NAILS

WHAT GOD DID TO WIN YOUR HEART

STUDY GUIDE
GROUPS / INDIVIDUALS
FIVE SESSIONS

MAX LUCADO

WITH CHRISTINE M. ANDERSON

THOMAS NELSON
Since 1798

He Chose the Nails Study Guide

© 2016 by Max Lucado

All rights reserved. No portion of this book may be reproduced, stored in a retrieval system, or transmitted in any form or by any means—electronic, mechanical, photocopy, recording, scanning, or other—except for brief quotations in critical reviews or articles, without the prior written permission of the publisher.

Published in Nashville, Tennessee, by Thomas Nelson. Thomas Nelson is a registered trademark of HarperCollins Christian Publishing, Inc.

Published in association with Anvil II Management, Inc.

Unless otherwise indicated Scripture quotations are taken from the Holy Bible, New International Version®, NIV®. Copyright © 1973, 1978, 1984, 2011 by Biblica, Inc.® Used by permission of Zondervan. All rights reserved worldwide. www.zondervan.com. The “NIV” and “New International Version” are trademarks registered in the United States Patent and Trademark Office by Biblica, Inc.®

Scripture quotations marked CEV are taken from the Contemporary English Version. Copyright © 1991, 1992, 1995 by American Bible Society. Used by permission.

Scripture quotations marked MSG are from The Message. Copyright © by Eugene H. Peterson 1993, 1994, 1995, 1996, 2000, 2001, 2002. Used by permission of Tyndale House Publishers, Inc.

Scripture quotations marked NASB are taken from the New American Standard Bible®. Copyright © 1960, 1962, 1963, 1968, 1971, 1972, 1973, 1975, 1977, 1995 by The Lockman Foundation. Used by permission. (www.Lockman.org).

Scripture quotations marked NCV are taken from the New Century Version®. Copyright © 2005 by Thomas Nelson. Used by permission. All rights reserved.

Scripture quotations marked NLT are from the Holy Bible, New Living Translation. © 1996, 2004, 2007, 2013 by Tyndale House Foundation. Used by permission of Tyndale House Publishers, Inc., Carol Stream, Illinois 60188. All rights reserved.

Scripture quotations marked NRSV are taken from the New Revised Standard Version Bible, copyright © 1989 the Division of Christian Education of the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America. Used by permission. All rights reserved.

Scripture quotations marked PHILLIPS are taken from J. B. Phillips, The New Testament in Modern English, 1962 edition by HarperCollins.

Thomas Nelson titles may be purchased in bulk for educational, business, fundraising, or sales promotional use. For information, please e-mail SpecialMarkets@ThomasNelson.com.

ISBN 978-0-310-68726-9

First Printing July 2016 / Printed in the United States of America

Contents

How to Use This Guide . . . . .	7
Session 1: He Chose to Be One of Us . . . . .	9
Session 2: He Chose to Forgive Us . . . . .	33
Session 3: He Chose to Invite Us into His Presence . . . . .	55
Session 4: He Chose to Love Us Forever . . . . .	77
Session 5: He Chose to Give Us Victory . . . . .	101
 Optional Session for Week 6 of Lent:
He Chose to Give Us Confidence . . . . .	123
Notes . . . . .	141

How to Use This Guide

GROUP SIZE

The He Chose the Nails video study is designed to be experienced in a group setting such as a Bible study, Sunday school class, or any small group gathering. To ensure everyone has enough time to participate in discussions, it is recommended that large groups break up into smaller groups of four to six people each.

MATERIALS NEEDED

Each participant should have his or her own study guide, which includes notes for video segments, directions for activities and discussion questions, as well as practices to deepen learning between sessions.

TIMING

The time notations—for example (14 minutes)—indicate the actual time of video segments and the suggested times for each activity or discussion. Adhering to the suggested times will enable you to complete each session in about an hour. If you have a longer meeting, you may wish to allow more time for discussion and activities.

PRACTICE

Each session includes an application activity called a practice for group members to complete on their own between meetings. Although the practice is completed outside of group time, it's a good idea to briefly review it before concluding the meeting to clarify any questions and to make sure everyone is on board.

FACILITATION

Each group should appoint a facilitator who is responsible for starting the video and for keeping track of time during discussions and activities. Facilitators may also read questions aloud and monitor discussions, prompting participants to respond and ensuring that everyone has the opportunity to participate.

OPTIONAL SESSION FOR WEEK 6 OF LENT

An optional session has been provided for small groups using this study as part of a churchwide campaign for Lent. During this final session, the participants will not watch a video but will have an extended time of Bible study and discussion as they prepare to celebrate Easter.

SESSION 1

He Chose to Be One of Us

God did what the law could not do. He sent his own Son in a body like the bodies we sinners have. And in that body God declared an end to sin's control over us by giving his Son as a sacrifice for our sins.

Romans 8:3 NLT

You alone are the God for us—because you alone are the God who has been one of us. You felt what we feel, you touched the death that we know, you came to us as Immanuel:

God with us.

Ann Voskamp, aholyexperience.com

WELCOME

Welcome to session 1 of He Chose the Nails. If this is your first time together as a group, take a moment to introduce yourselves to one another before watching the video. Then let's begin!

VIDEO: HE CHOSE TO BE ONE OF US (14 MINUTES)

Play the video segment for session 1. As you watch, use the outline provided to follow along or to take additional notes on anything that stands out to you.

Notes

The gifts of Easter are the most precious gifts any person could ever receive because they cost God so much to give.

God's greatest gift of all—his greatest act of love for us—was sending Jesus into our world.

Jesus gave up:

Timelessness: Jesus swapped eternity for calendars. The Bible tells us God is “beyond our understanding! The number of his years is past finding out” (Job 36:26). There is no moment when God was not God, for he is eternal.

Boundlessness: Jesus gave up being a spirit to live in a body. One moment he was a boundless spirit; the next moment he was flesh and bones.

Sinlessness: Jesus became sin for us. An object that symbolizes the consequences of sin in humanity’s heart is a thornbush (see Genesis 3:17–18; Numbers 33:55; Proverbs 22:5; Matthew 7:16). The thorny crown on Christ’s brow is a picture of the fruit of our sin that pierced his heart.

We are “by nature children of wrath” (Ephesians 2:3 NASB). Though we have been made in God’s image, we’re corrupt at the core. The sinless One took on the face of a sinner so that we sinners could take on the face of a saint.

Jesus never knew the fruits of sin until he became sin for us (see 2 Corinthians 5:21). When he was crucified, he cried out in a loud voice, “My God, my God, why have you forsaken me?” (Matthew 27:46). Those are not the words of a saint but the cry of a sinner.

The crown of thorns could have been made—and should have been worn—by every one of us. But it was not, thanks to the greatest gift of all.

Why did God give us this gift? “For God so loved the world that he gave his one and only Son, that whoever believes in him shall not perish but have eternal life” (John 3:16).

God did it for us—just for us—because he loves us.

GROUP DISCUSSION (44 MINUTES)

Take a few minutes to talk about what you just watched.

1. What part of the teaching had the most impact on you?

Receiving the Gifts of Easter

2. Imagine for a moment that you have decided to do a random act of kindness for a stranger by leaving a $100 bill in a public place (such as a park, a lobby, or a store aisle). After placing the cash where it can be easily spotted, you hide nearby to see who will find it. As you wait, you begin to think about who might receive your gift.
  - What kind of person do you most hope will and will not find your gift? For instance, you might hope a struggling single parent will find it, and that a compulsive gambler will not find it. Identify three or four kinds of people you would consider deserving recipients and three or four you would consider less than deserving.
  - If someone in the less-than-deserving category were to find your gift, what thoughts might you zing his or her way? For example, You don't deserve it. You'd better not waste it. Someone else needs it more.

- The same way we think about giving gifts is often reflected in the way we think about receiving them. Consider the internal response you tend to have when you are the recipient of a gift, whether material or immaterial. What might the thought zingers you just identified suggest about your own ability to receive a gift, perhaps especially when it is unexpected? Do you send similar thought zingers to yourself? (I don't deserve it; I better not waste it; someone else needs it more.) What other internal dynamics sometimes make it difficult for you to truly receive a gift?
3. Max described the period leading up to Easter as a season of gifts—precious gifts that God gave us at the cross, such as the crown of thorns. For centuries, Christians throughout the world have used the season of Lent to prepare themselves spiritually so that nothing prevents them from receiving and celebrating the greatest Easter gift of all—the resurrected Christ.

The word Lent comes from the Old English word lencten, which means spring. In its earliest observance, Lent was a time for new converts to prepare for their baptism on Easter Sunday. Today, Lent marks the forty-day period before Easter that begins each year on Ash Wednesday.* Although it is traditionally a time devoted to self-examination, self-denial, and repentance, Lent sinks its deepest roots into the joyful expectation of new life through God's forgiveness and steadfast love. This sense of Lent is evident in the words of Jesus: "The kingdom of God has come near. Repent and believe the good news!" (Mark 1:15). We also find it in this passage written by the prophet Joel, traditionally read at the beginning of Lent:

"Even now," declares the LORD, "return to me with all your heart, with fasting and weeping and mourning." Rend your heart and not your garments. Return to the LORD your God, for he is gracious and compassionate, slow to anger and abounding in love, and he relents from sending calamity (Joel 2:12-13).

The time during which Joel was a prophet was one of great prosperity. God had richly blessed his people, but their hearts had grown cold over time. They began to take "God and his blessings for granted. [Their] faith had degenerated into an empty formalism and their lives into moral decadence."<sup>1</sup> Through the prophet, God pleaded with his people to return to him with their whole heart.

The season of Lent issues a similar call to God's people today. It is a time to take seriously the areas of our lives in

---

* There are actually forty-six days between Ash Wednesday and Easter, but the six Sundays in Lent are traditionally set aside as days of renewal (considered "mini-Easters") and so are not counted as part of Lent.

which we fall short, feel defeated, or have grown cold. And we do so not to beat ourselves up but to prepare for God's gifts:

Lent is a time for discipline, for confession, for honesty, not because God is mean or fault-finding or finger-pointing but because he wants us to know the joy of being cleaned out, ready for all the good things he now has in store.<sup>2</sup>

This process of being cleaned out is part of how we return to God with all our heart, which is what Lent is meant to help us do.

- How would you describe your understanding and experience of Lent over the years? In what ways is it similar to or different from the description you just read?

- What, if anything, shifts in your perspective when you think of Lent less as a season of guilt or giving something up and more as a time to be intentional about preparing to receive joy and good things from God?

- The Hebrew verbs translated rend and return in Joel 2:12–13 are images of repentance in action. People would rend or tear their garments as an expression of intense grief or in response to a catastrophe.<sup>3</sup> To return means to make a U-turn, to go back to the point of departure, to change one's mind.<sup>4</sup> What do these two words—rend and return—suggest about what it means not only to seek reconciliation with God but also to do so with all your heart?

- Drawing on any previous experiences of repentance and forgiveness (with God or others), what three words or phrases would you use to describe what it's like to rend your heart? What three words or phrases would you use to describe “the joy of being cleaned out”?
4. A crown is a symbol of honor and authority. In the Old Testament, a crown (or turban) was a mark of consecration for a priest (see Exodus 39:27–31) and a sign of sovereignty for a king (see 2 Kings 11:12). In the New Testament, the apostle Paul acknowledged the crowns given to athletes as symbols of their victory and reward (see 1 Corinthians 9:24–25). The elements of a crown, and the materials used to make it, were often significant. For instance, the number of bands around a crown might indicate the number of territories over which a king had dominion.<sup>5</sup> Crowns given to kings were made of precious metals and sometimes adorned with gems (see 2 Samuel 12:30); crowns or garlands given to athletes were made of leaves or other perishable foliage (see 1 Corinthians 9:25).

- In the video, Max explored the many uses biblical writers make of thorns as symbols for the consequences of sin. Drawing on the examples of crowns in the Bible, what insights do they suggest about the significance of Jesus' crown of thorns? For example, what might a crown of thorns symbolize about the source of Jesus' authority as both priest and king? Over what did his crown give him dominion?
- The Roman soldiers who made a crown of thorns for Jesus intended it to be not only a means of physical torture but also of humiliation. However, in making it a gift of the cross, God utterly transformed it—a mock crown of pain and shame became a true crown of victory and glory. Consider the implications of receiving or declining this particular gift of the cross—of allowing God to transform whatever has been a source of pain and shame into a crown of victory and glory. What might make it difficult to truly receive this gift? What would receiving this gift require of a person throughout his or her walk with God?

5. In his allegorical novel about heaven and hell called The Great Divorce, author C. S. Lewis characterizes souls who set themselves against God as those who are determined to refuse the good gifts God constantly offers them.

Good beats upon the damned incessantly as sound waves beat on the ears of the deaf, but they cannot receive it. Their fists are clenched, their teeth are clenched, their eyes fast shut. First they will not, in the end they cannot, open their hands for gifts, or their mouths for food, or their eyes to see.<sup>6</sup>

As you anticipate learning more about the gifts of Easter in the remaining sessions of this study, in what ways does this perspective about receiving God's gifts challenge you? In what ways does it intrigue you or encourage you?

Walking Together through Lent

6. In addition to studying together, it's also important to walk together through Lent—to share our lives with one another and to be aware of how God is at work among us. In each session, there will be many opportunities to speak life-giving—and life-challenging—words and to listen to one another deeply.

As you look ahead to the coming weeks of learning and walking together, what request would you like to make of the group? How do you hope other members will challenge you or encourage you? Use one or more of the sentence starters below, or your own statement, to help the group understand the best way to be a good friend to you throughout this study. As each person responds, use the two-page chart that follows to briefly note what is important to that person and how you can be a good friend to him or her during your discussions and times together.

You can help me to take Lent seriously this year by . . .

I'd like you to consistently challenge me about . . .

It really helps me to engage in a group when . . .

I tend to withdraw or feel anxious when . . .

In our discussions, the best thing you could do for me is . . .

Name	The Best Way I Can Be a Good Friend to This Person Is . . .

Name	The Best Way I Can Be a Good Friend to This Person Is . . .

INDIVIDUAL ACTIVITY: WHAT I WANT TO REMEMBER (2 MINUTES)

Complete this activity on your own.

1. Briefly review the outline and any notes you took.
2. In the space below, write down the most significant thing you gained in this session—from the teaching, activities, or discussions.

What I want to remember from this session . . .

Lenten Practice

Each session in the He Chose the Nails study includes a Lenten practice for you to complete between sessions. Although the practice is completed on your own and outside of group time, it's a good idea to briefly preview the practice description before concluding your meeting each week. As an intentional act of preparing our hearts for Easter, the practices throughout the study require setting aside time each day to complete. To get the most out of the practice, it's important not to hurry or try to complete activities at the last minute.

CLOSING PRAYER

Close your time together with prayer.

SESSION 1

Lenten Practice

Let's take a good look at the way we're living and reorder our lives under God.

Lamentations 3:40 MSG

THE STARTING POINT FOR JOY

The starting point for Lent requires holding two things in tension—a humble reckoning of our sinful condition and a brave expectation that we will be changed. It is a spring-cleaning of the soul that gives us permission to take seriously the areas of our lives in which we fall short, feel defeated, or have grown cold. And it is a kindling of the soul that sparks our desire to return to God with our whole heart. The author of Hebrews captures this demanding yet joyful spirit of Lent with these words:

Let us strip off every weight that slows us down, especially the sin that so easily trips us up. And let us run with endurance the race God has set before us. We do this by keeping our eyes on Jesus, the champion who initiates and perfects our faith. Because of the joy awaiting him, he endured the cross, disregarding its shame. Now he is seated in the place of honor beside God's throne (Hebrews 12:1-2 NLT).

The Message offers a fresh perspective on this familiar passage:

Strip down, start running—and never quit! No extra spiritual fat, no parasitic sins. Keep your eyes on Jesus, who both began and finished this race we're in. Study how he did it. Because he never lost sight of where he was headed—that exhilarating finish in and with God—he could put up with anything along the way: Cross, shame, whatever. And now he's there, in the place of honor, right alongside God (Hebrews 12:1-2 MSG).

As we begin the Lenten journey in preparation for Easter, we commit to an honest examination of our lives but not to morbid introspection. We let go of hindrances but not our status as beloved children of God. In all things, we refuse to lose sight of where we're headed—an exhilarating new life with Christ. At all times, we keep our eyes fixed on Jesus and the joy before us.

The practice for this week—which you will continue and build on throughout the study—is to set aside time each day to listen to God through Scripture and prayerful reflection. The invitation is to cultivate a humble spirit of hope and expectation that God will meet you in this practice if you are willing to trust him. Author and pastor N. T. Wright writes:

Whenever God does something new, he involves people—often unlikely people, frequently surprised and alarmed people. He asks them to trust him in a new way, to put aside their natural reactions, to listen humbly for a fresh word and to act on it without knowing exactly how it's going to work out. That's what he's asking all of us to do this Lent. Reading the Bible without knowing in advance what God is going to say takes humility . . . we may have to put our initial reactions on hold and be prepared to hear new words, to think new thoughts, and to live them out.<sup>7</sup>

At the beginning or end of each day this week, set aside fifteen to twenty minutes to read and prayerfully reflect on the Daily Scripture Readings (see page 29). The readings for each day are taken from the Book of Common Prayer Daily Office and include morning and evening psalms as well as selections from the Old Testament, New Testament epistles, and the Gospels.

- Each day, begin with a brief time of silence (one to two minutes).
- In God's loving presence, reflect for a few moments on these questions: Where in my life am I falling short, feeling defeated, or growing cold to God? What new thing do I hope God might do in me?
- Ask the Lord to speak to you through what you are about to read. Read the Scripture passages for the day slowly and prayerfully, paying attention to any words, phrases, or verses that stand out to you. What you're looking for is what is sometimes referred to as a "watchword"—anything that sparks a connection between the text and your life. It might be a promise, a word of wisdom, an admonition, a comfort, or an encouragement.

- Read your watchword again, receiving what you read as God's words especially for you. Then prayerfully reflect on the following questions: What do I sense God may be saying to me? If I were to take these words seriously, how would I respond? Spend time in silence again to listen for God, asking him to make his message clear to you.
- Use a journal or the space provided on the following pages to write down your watchword, your responses to the reflection questions, or any other observations about your experience of reading and listening for God.
- Close your time by asking God to help you "hear new words, to think new thoughts, and to live them out." Invite God to use your watchword to continue speaking to you throughout the day ahead.
- At the end of the week, review your daily reflections and observations. What stands out most to you about what God is saying to you? Write your observations in the space provided or in a journal.

Bring your notes to the next group gathering. You'll have a chance to talk about your experiences and observations at the beginning of the session 2 discussion.

DAILY SCRIPTURE READINGS

DAY 1

Morning Psalm: Psalms 63:1–11; 98

Old Testament: Daniel 9:3–10

Epistle: Hebrews 2:10–18

Gospel: John 12:44–50

Evening Psalm: Psalms 103

DAY 5

Morning Psalm: Psalms 50

Old Testament: Genesis 39:1–23

Epistle: 1 Corinthians 2:14–3:15

Gospel: Mark 2:1–12

Evening Psalm: Psalms 59–60

DAY 2

Morning Psalm: Psalms 41; 52

Old Testament: Genesis 31:1–11

Epistle: 1 Corinthians 1:1–19

Gospel: Mark 1:1–13

Evening Psalm: Psalms 44

DAY 6

Morning Psalm: Psalms 95; 40; 54

Old Testament: Genesis 40:1–23

Epistle: 1 Corinthians 3:16–23

Gospel: Mark 2:13–22

Evening Psalm: Psalms 51

DAY 3

Morning Psalm: Psalms 45

Old Testament: Genesis 37:12–24

Epistle: 1 Corinthians 1:20–31

Gospel: Mark 1:14–28

Evening Psalm: Psalms 47–48

DAY 7

Morning Psalm: Psalms 55

Old Testament: Genesis 41:1–13

Epistle: 1 Corinthians 4:1–7

Gospel: Mark 2:23–3:6

Evening Psalm: Psalms 138–139

DAY 4

Morning Psalm: Psalms 119:49–72

Old Testament: Genesis 37:25–36

Epistle: 1 Corinthians 2:1–13

Gospel: Mark 1:29–45

Evening Psalm: Psalms 49; 53

Day 1 Reflections and Observations

Day 2 Reflections and Observations

Day 3 Reflections and Observations

Day 4 Reflections and Observations

Day 5 Reflections and Observations

Day 6 Reflections and Observations

Day 7 Reflections and Observations

Week in Review

Briefly review your daily reflections and observations. What stands out most to you about what God is saying to you?