

The Antidote to Hatred and Division in our World

Share the Dream is a six-session video Bible study series based on the life and teachings of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Throughout this series, co-hosted by Chris Broussard and Matt Daniels, you will look at six biblical principles that shaped Dr. King's life and motivated him to speak out on behalf of African-Americans in the Civil Rights Movement: love, conscience, freedom, justice, perseverance, and hope.

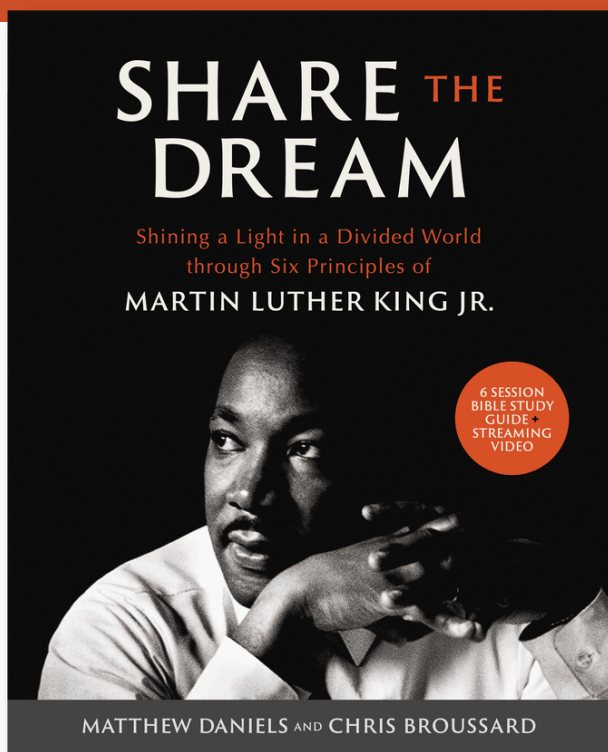

"I look at [Martin Luther King Jr.] and think, 'I must dare to be great.'" - Linsey Davis, broadcast journalist at ABC News

Dr. King and other courageous men and women were able to change history through the power of a dream that was not rooted merely in human principles but in the love of God for all humanity . . . for all of God's children made in his image. In other words, there was a profoundly spiritual dimension to the early Civil Rights Movement. Perhaps this is most clearly seen in the famous "I Have a Dream" speech that Dr. King delivered on August 28, 1963, in which he called for racial equality in America.

"Love is a choice, a choice to sacrifice yourself for the betterment of other people." - Lecrae, GRAMMY Award winning rapper and songwriter

The best way to Share the Dream is to follow in Dr. King's footsteps and embrace the vision—both individually and collectively with the people of God—for which he died. You can help a new generation better understand . . . live . . . experience . . . and ultimately form a community around the unifying principles at the heart of the dream to which Dr. King dedicated his life.

"We must learn to live together as brothers and sisters or we will die together as fools."
- Martin Luther King Jr.

Share the Dream is published by HarperChristian Resources, in collaboration with America's leading African-American church publisher Urban Ministries, Inc., and The K.I.N.G. Movement which seeks to help men and boys reach their God-given potential in every realm of life.
